Holly Wiegand | Student Evaluations of Teaching Effectiveness

Mean Quantitative Evaluations (1=poor, 5=excellent)

Course	Overall Instructor Rating	Overall Course Rating	Relevance of Assigned Readings	Usefulness of Assignments	Effectiveness in Explaining Concepts	Ability to Stimulate Interest	Fairness in Grading	Quality of Feedback	Availability Outside of Class
Spring 2022 EN142	4.44	4.25	4.5	4.13	4.19	4.06	4.31	4.56	4.44

EN142: Introduction to Poetry (Spring 2022)

- "Able to stimulate discussions among small groups, as well as collaborations on discussing different topics regarding course outline. Multiple sources were provided for references throughout the semester, as well as easy access and clear prompt to assignment."
- "Instructor Wiegand does everything in her power to ensure that the course is enjoyed by everyone. I appreciate her ability to facilitate engaging group discussions, and she always makes me feel comfortable expressing my thoughts about poetry (which was initially daunting to me because I've never taken a poetry class before, so I was scared of being "wrong"). She is very accommodating both in and outside of class during office hours, and she has helped me understand poetry in a much more meaningful way. I originally registered for this class because I needed HUB units, but this turned out to be one of my favorite classes throughout all of my college experience."
- "The workload was FAR too heavy for a hub elective. As seniors already swamped with work for the entirety of the semester, it should have been lighter. There shouldn't have been a midterm."
- "Instructor is clearly very passionate about wanting her students to become more involved in poetry. She is very kind and encouraging with everything. No matter how wrong my poetry analysis is or how terrible my poem is, she always encourages risks and creativity. She adapted well to the personalities of the students. Class discussions were a bit dull at the start of the course but once she figured out what we like to talk about, class has been great. Instructor Wiegand clearly loves what she does and is great at it."